PAPERS AND PUBLICATIONS

- [1] Khan, J., Li, Y., & Zheng, J. (Under Review). Sectoral growth dynamics, domestic linkages, and GVC movement in Pakistan: A single and multi-regional input-output modeling approach. Review of Development Economics.
- [2] Zheng, J., Khan, J., & Alam, Z. (Under Review). Agglomeration economies and regional inequalities: Theory and evidence from provincial China. Journal of Chinese Economic and Business Studies.
- [3] Xiao, X., Khan, J., & Zheng, J. (Under Review). Structural changes and sectoral linkages: Unveiling the ICT sector's role in China and India. Telecommunication Policy.
- [4] Zheng, J., Zhao, Z., & Liu, Y. (Under Review). Investigating Chinese students' behavior towards water saving. International Journal of Social Sciences and Sustainability (IJSSS).
- [5] Khan, J., Li, Y.(2023). Linkages and Structural Changes in the Chinese Financial Sector, 1996–2018: A Network and Input–Output Approach. Structural Change and Economic Dynamics.(acknowledged, journal policy restricts undergraduate authorship)
· This study highlights the significant impact of the Chinese financial sector on downstream growth, its vital intermediary role, and the internalization that followed the global financial crisis. It underscores the importance of integrated policies for managing evolving systemic risks in light of shifting intersectoral dynamics.
- [6] Crespo, R., Rodríguez-Pose, A. (2024). Innovation and Regional Growth in Europe ([Ren Jianhui], Ed.). Beijing: Economic Management Press.
· This book explores the complex relationship between innovation and regional growth, applying the social filter theory. It examines how collaborations among universities, research institutions, industries, and government entities drive regional innovation. Special focus is given to Europe's mechanisms for external innovation absorption and China's distinctive innovation dynamics, including the Belt and Road Initiative and dual circulation development strategy. I contributed as the translator for Chapter 3: Geographical Accessibility and Human Capital Accumulation.
